STATE OF WISCONSIN.

A PROCLAMATION

BY THE GOVERNOR.

In conformity with law, I, William D. Hoard, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do hereby designate

Wednesday, April 30th Next, as Arbor Day, and recommend that all public schools and colleges of the state observe the same by suitable exercises, "having for their object the imparting of knowledge of horticulture, in the department known as arboriculture, and the adornment of schools and public grounds."

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the great seal of the state of Wisconsin to be affixed, Done at the capitol, in the city of Madison, this 15th day of March, A. D. 1890.

WILLIAM D. HOARD.
By the Governor:
ELBERT G. TYLER, Secretary of State.

HOW THEY STARTED IN LIFE.

One of the most instructive lessons a young man can read is the story of some of the business men in Chicago—where they started in business, how they started, and how they succeeded. None of the great moneyed men of that city, those who command their millions and are masters of trade and commerce, inherited their fortunes. The story of how each of these great financiers made his first thousand dollars is profitable reading for the young men of to-day who think that to be successful in business one must inherit money or be born lucky.

The other day some twenty or thirty of the solid men of Chicago gave their experience to a newspaper reporter. P. D. Armour, whose income is almost as great as the earnings of the Chicago and Northwestern railway, began on a farm, and began very poor. He was once a broken down, disheartened gold seeker in California, and came near dying. When he left California he went to Milwaukee, and got work with John Plankinton, as clerk. There is where Armour made his start and developed his character. He made John Plankinton believe that he could not get along without him, and this was a wise thing to do, for it made John Plankinton and P. D. Armour partners, and then the road of the latter to wealth was quick and in some things, easy.

No man in Chicago has had darker days or more shadows than Potter Palmer. He began with nothing and after the great fire was worse than nothing. At one time he had interest of $200,000 to pay and nothing to pay it with. But he was one of those men that cannot be crushed by any calamity short of death, and he planned and plodded, worked and saved, and he is a millionaire.

There is not a man in the west who began his life's work with a smaller capital than John R. Walsh, the book and newspaper dealer. Just about the time the war closed, or a little before, he made his first thousand dollars—he made it by hard knocks, by constant toil, by saving a few dollars out of the little money he earned, not ashamed to do anything honorable, and now his name is a power in the business world.

So with the Farwells—one in the senate and the other attending to the business in Chicago. Both were very poor, so poor that Charles B. now in the senate, was glad to work in Chicago for $8 a month. He then clerked in an auction house for twenty-five cents a night. When he was 25 years old he owned $55. J. V., the head of the large dry goods house, had as rugged a road as Charles, and both lives are an interesting study, for their millions came to them by working and studying, and not by speculation. J. V. is the greatest Christian worker, and in connection with his making money there is a beautiful story of his giving, for since he was able to give a dollar to charity and to church, he has given tens of thousands.

Marshall Field is known all over the United States. His wonderful success began when he took to saving a little money from the salary as clerk that with ninety-nine clerks out of a hundred, then or now, would not enable them to put on the appearance the clerks so frequently wear. He was not lucky except at hard work, economy, sobriety, and the exercises of common business sense, bring luck.

There are many others in Chicago who have won the crown of honorable success simply by paying the price. In the race they were determined, but they were likewise judicious, consistent in purpose, always armed with integrity, and did not barter away their chances in speculation. Their lives make splendid studies for young men.

THE OUTLOOK FOR PENSIONS.

A Washington press dispatch contains the following items:

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The house committee on pensions to-day ordered two general pension bills to be reported to the house with favorable recommendations. The first of these is the Richardson bill, granting pensions to the survivors of the Indian wars, and to the surviving widows of those men who were married prior to their discharge, and who have not been re-married, at the rate of $8 per month. The second bill was introduced by Mr. Norton, and proposes to amend the Mexican war pension act so as to include the soldiers who served sixty days in the Mexican war or were engaged in a battle and those personally named by congress for specific services in that war, and the widows of such soldiers.

A statement prepared at the pension office shows that 1,250 pension certificates were issued during the week ending March 22, 1890. The issues for the four weeks ended on that date aggregate 15,615, as against 8,012 for the corresponding four weeks in 1889.

In addition to what has been said heretofore in the Gazette touching the pension problem before congress, it may be well to do a little figuring on the basis of the more important bill now before the pension committee of the house. The Washington Post, which is, as near as can be the official organ of the republican administration, prints a survey of the pension projects which congress is asked to carry out. There are 200 general pension bills before congress, and 2,018 special bills. The most liberal of these proposes to place all soldiers on the pension rolls at a minimum of $8 per month, whether they are receiving pensions now or not. The friends of the bill estimate that it would cost $140,000,000 per annum. The more moderate of the service pension bills would probably cost from $80,000,000 to $100,000,000 a year.

There is another bill before congress of a very sweeping character, which proposes to place on the pension roll all disabled soldiers who are not now drawing a pension, without regard to whether the disability was in service or not, and without regard to the pecuniary condition of the soldier. "No estimate is made of the expenditure involved. The dependent pension bill would, it is thought, require an annual expenditure of $35,000,000. The bill repealing the limitation to the arrears act would, according to the estimate of commissioner of pensions, necessitate an expenditure of $475,000,000. Besides these there are innumerable bills increasing the rates the number of relatives entitled to pension, etc., etc. Omitting these from the estimate and confining our attention only to the service pension bill and the arrears bill—since they include all the rest, most of which would not be proposed were the service pensions already established—we find that congress is asked to vote $100,000,000 a year to the veterans for the remainder of their lives, and nearly $500,000,000 in back pay. The expectation of life of the average soldier is eighteen years, so that the service pension bill would involve an expenditure of $1,800,000,000, even though the young women who marry old veterans should never be permitted to share in the bounty distributed. These proposed expenditures, when added to the $90,000,000 of bounties paid during the war, the $1,000,000,000 of pensions paid since the war, and the $900,000,000 which will be necessary to fulfill the promises already made to the veterans, would bring the expenditures for bounties and pensions to $4,900,000,000, or more than the gross value of all the lands, houses, and slaves in the south at the opening of the war.

These figures, not speculations by any means, will give one some idea of the gigantic scheme to deplete the national treasury.

There is something quite funny in the Milwaukee democrats. They want the public schools maintained, English taught in all the schools, both parochial and public, but for the Bennett law which proposes to teach English only twelve weeks in a year, and teach it whenever the parents desire, the democrats prefer to have contempt, calling it harmful and demanding its repeal! Verily, the Milwaukee democrats are entering on a campaign of humor.

PITH OF THE NEWS.

The Flack divorce suit at New York has been set for a hearing April 14.

RED WHEELER, a mulatto, was fatally stabbed by Grant Jones, a negro, in a Kansas City saloon.

CASPER PEPPERMYER of Burlington, Iowa, was killed while trying to stop a runaway team at Denver.

ANDREW SARASER, a 12-year-old boy of Huntington, Ind., was run over and killed by a Wabash freight at Andrews.

ROCKFORD WEBER QUARTETTE. MYRON E. BARNES, 1st Tenor. CHARLES C. ROGERS, 2nd Tenor. L. JUDSON WEST, Baritone. HENRY D. ANDREW, Bass.

This Celebrated Quartette has filled some of the most lustrous engagements ever offered to any similar organization; among them are the following: The celebrated Bismarck meeting, held during the last campaign at Battery D, Chicago; the famous meeting held by the Chicago Commercial Club at Madison Street Theatre. This Quartette was also the guests of the Commercial Club to and from Washington. They also received a personal invitation to a private reception at the White House from President Harrison. Since that time the Quartette has visited Washington with the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Chicago and Illinois; and while there sang at the reception of the Illinois Knights, given by Mrs. John A. Logan. The following letter speaks for itself:

CALVERT PLACE, WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 15, 1889. My Dear Mr. West:—I am indebted to you for giving me an opportunity of expressing my thanks to the Weber Quartette for the honor they did me by singing for us on the occasion of my reception to the "Knights Templar." My only regret is that I could not have had more opportunity to hear them long. Every note of the quartette was a voice and an exquisite rendition of Kjerfing's "Last Night." I am still being asked who they were, and am gratified by the compliments paid them, because they are Illinoisans. At some future time I hope to welcome them to my home again. Please make my compliments to each of the quartette. Very truly yours, MISS JOSEPH A. LOGAN.

Address: L. JUDSON WEST, Secretary, 113 North Main Street, Rockford, Ill., or G. D. BUCKINGHAM, Manager, 125 La Salle Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

Matinee prices: Children, 15 cents; adults, 50 cents. Evening price, 50 cents.

CHICAGO'S TITLE CLEAR.

HER RIGHT TO THE WORLD'S FAIRSETTLED IN THE HOUSE.

The Lake City Wind by an immense Majority--New York Men Yield Gracefully.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The House has passed the world's fair bill by a vote of 222 yeas to 49 nays after an amendment was adopted changing the date of opening to May 1, 1893. The contest today was admirably conducted. Its successful issue has not unduly elevated the Chicago contingent, because it was a foregone conclusion. The New York and St. Louis Representatives came down handsomely, and the last fragment of opposition to Chicago has disappeared. The country is now united to make the exposition an achievement of supreme splendor. The scenes in the House were interesting to crowded galleries, and at times thrilling in themselves. When the final vote in approval of the bill was announced the spectators broke into cheers.

Mr. Chandler, chairman of the special fair committee, called attention to the stipulation that the debate was to end at 4 o'clock and the vote taken at once. He said that the time of those in favor of the bill would be controlled by himself and the time of those against the bill by Mr. Flower of New York.

The world's fair bill was then read by the clerk.

Mr. Chandler said he desired to offer some amendments. The first, unanimously reported by the committee, added to section 6 a provision for the appointment of a board of lady managers to be associated with them and to perform such duties as might be assigned to them. The amendment was adopted without objection.

A second amendment, also agreed to without dissent, provided for a separate building for the fish commission exhibit. Mr. Chandler then addressed the House on the merits of the bill.

It was a matter of gratification rather than of regret, said Mr. Chandler, that these three great cities had contested for the location of the fair. It was becoming the patriotism of the republic that great municipalities should strive with each other for the privilege of celebrating the discovery of the new world.

The issue of an exciting contest in the House has been to locate the exposition in Chicago. It has been thought expedient, therefore, to change in some particulars the original bill so it might better subserve the interests of the fair.

The substitute offered by the committee for the original bill had been accepted by the World's fair committee and was, the speaker ventured to say, generally satisfactory to all interested.

In regard to a appropriation for the fair he said that the gentlemen ought not to object to that. Such an appropriation had been made for the Philadelphia exposition, the New Orleans exposition, and the Atlantic fair. Mr. Kilgore of Texas, asked if the money was not loaned to Philadelphia and repaid. Mr. Chandler said it was not; that $100,000 had been given for the purpose of the fair outright by the National government.

Chicago has done more than we expected her to do in preparing for the fair, said Mr. Chandler. Five millions of dollars have been raised by the city of Chicago--$5,000,000 that are as solidly secured as though by promissory notes; but they have not stopped there; in addition to these $5,000,000 they guaranteed that another $5,000,000 should be raised, making in all $10,000,000.

They have secured this by guarantees by business men who have a national reputation for probity and financial integrity. But the committee has not stopped there. They have put in the bill an additional check, and that is that the President of the United States shall have the right to require the government to participate in the exposition until $10,000,000 are raised, as provided for.

Mr. Belden of New York said: "Mr. Flower, Mr. Hatch, and myself have signed a minority report objecting to this bill. We object to it because in our opinion Chicago has not given proper guarantee to raise $10,000,000, and without this amount we do not think the fair will be successful."

The Chicago representatives on this committee have shown us no subscription list. They have given us no statement, no signed guarantee, nothing that we can put our fingers on. I asked for the subscription list and I was told that I might look at the list in confidence, but that I must not make it public. The first name on that list was that of Mr. St. John and opposite it a subscription of $395,000. I asked the chairman what that meant, and he gave me an explanation I could not understand. I gathered that a meeting had been held by citizens of Chicago and $395,000 promised, and that is the kind of a guarantee they want us to accept.

This supplementary provision makes the guarantee $10,000,000 absolute; and there will be no fair. Speaking upon the amount of the contemplated appropriation, he said that $15,000,000 was not an extraordinary amount, and it should be remembered that only $320,000 was to be appropriated for the present fiscal year.

Mr. O'Neill of Pennsylvania suggested that it seemed to him a rather large sum, yet perhaps it was not. He did not wish to take an extreme view of it. Mr. Chandler replied that the scope of the fair as projected by the Chicago committee was more splendid than any exposition ever before held. He did not think that the government exhibit should be disproportioned to the grandeur of the whole. In closing remarks Mr. Chandler eloquently alluded to the great possibilities for national progress that a well-conducted fair promised.

Mr. Chandler then offered an amendment in his original motion, to be considered as pending, providing for the dedication of the buildings of the world's fair with appropriate ceremonies, October 12, 1893; and further providing that the exposition shall be opened to visitors not later than May 1, 1893, and close not later than October 30, 1893.

He said that this postponement was not asked by Chicago, but he thought that it would inure to the benefit of the exhibitors who were to take part in the exposition.

The House agreed to Mr. Chandler's amendment postponing the fair until 1893.

On motion of Mr. Carlisle of Kentucky an amendment was adopted providing that the government buildings shall be built of such material as can be taken out and sold after the exposition, preference in the sale being given to Chicago or to the world's exposition.

Mr. Cummings of New York, said: "Some months ago I appealed on this floor in behalf of fair play toward New York to-day I appeal to this House for fair play toward Chicago. (Applause.) New York had fair play on this floor. She lost this fight through treachery in her own ranks. There was a Benedict Arnold in New York. More than that there was no Jockey of Norfolk to receive a warning before her natural geographical allies of New England and Pennsylvania were led into the ranks of the enemies."

"But she had fair play on this floor. When I was a school-boy I saw two boys fighting. It was a stiff fight and a good fight. One boy whipped the other and the boy that was whipped picked up a stone and hit the other boy in the back of the neck with it. I do not know what kind of boys you have in this House, but I am not that kind of a boy."

It was a fair fight on this floor. We met the enemy and we were there. We were handsomely whipped. What are we going to do about it? I, at least, am going to do the main part. I am going to do the main part because I believe it is mainly to do so, because I believe it is my duty as a member of New York city to do so because I am right in doing so. I may add that I stand by the committee because I believe it is politic. The Senate has to have its inning.

"The action of the Senate may be unfavorable to Chicago; and if so, New York can again enter the lists with honor, if the time ever comes the battle must be fought, and you might say as was said at Marengo: 'The battle is completely lost, but there is time and opportunity to win another one.' If that time does not come, I consider I honor myself by my city, my State, and my country by standing by Chicago and doing all that can be done to make the fair a success."

Mr. Frank said that nothing should be done to retard the progress or imperil the success of the commemoration of a great historical event in the city of Chicago. The honor of the entire country was involved in its success.

Mr. McCreary of Kentucky spoke of the benefits which would accrue to the entire country by the holding of the exposition.

Mr. Hatch of Missouri expressed himself as satisfied with the clause in the bill declaring that the President, before issuing his proclamation, shall submit himself to the genuineness of the subscriptions. There was nothing left for Congress to do but to extend to Chicago every legitimate facility for making the fair what it should be--a great national success.

Messrs. Hooker of Mississippi, Mr. Adoo of New Jersey, and Mansur of Missouri, who had respectively favored Washington, New York, and St. Louis, expressed their earnest hope for a success in Chicago.

The bill was then passed--yeas 202, nays 49.

The negative votes were cast by those members who have been from the first opposed to the holding of any world's fair.

Congressional Contests Decided. WASHINGTON, March 26.—The House elections committee have decided to report in favor of the sitting Democratic members in the cases of Posey vs. Barrett from Indiana, and Bowen vs. Buchanan from Virginia. This makes three Republican claimants whose cases have been rejected by the committee out of the seven on which action has been taken.

FLOODS AT PITTSBURG.

Considerable Damage Being Done by Water--The Rivers Are Rising. PITTSBURG, Pa., March 26.—This city is experiencing another heavy rain to-day and water is coming down in torrents. Both the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, which were reported receding last night, are now rising at the rate of an inch and a half an hour.

The majority of the water coming here are submerged by water, and street cars are unable to make connections between this city and Allegheny. A number of mills which were reported idle yesterday on account of the water getting into the furnace pits are still closed, and thousands of men are idle.

The damage by water will be very large. Houses have been swept away along banks, and families have been compelled to vacate and lose their entire possessions.

ROCKFORD HAS A HURRICANE.

A Large Factory Demolished--Workmen Narrowly Escape Death. ROCKFORD, Ill., March 26.—The wind roared through Rockford like a hurricane yesterday morning, and blew down the Star furniture factory, a large building southeast of the city, not a timber being left standing. There were a number of workmen in the building, but they felt the building tremble and rushed outside. The last man had barely crossed the threshold when the structure fell.

HORSEWHIPPED ON THE STREET

A Chicago Lawyer the Victim of a Woman's Ire. CHICAGO, March 26.—United States Commissioner Simeon W. King was horsewhipped at the First National bank building this noon by Mrs. Frank Kent as the outcome of trouble that has existed between them for some months.

Mr. King recently attempted to put the Humane society take Mrs. Kent's three children from her, on the ground that she was not a fit person to care for them.

Order of Tont to Be Suppressed.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 26.—Auditor Pavey has instituted suit against lodge of the Order of Tont at Chicago, Pearl and Springfield to test their authority to do business in Illinois. The auditor says it is not the intention of the lodge to disband voluntarily, as has been stated. It is claimed by the order that it is not an insurance organization, and hence has the right to operate in the State. A bitter fight will be waged, and as the order has a large membership in Illinois the outcome of the auditor's action will be awaited with interest.

Suffering Along the Ohio.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, March 26.—The Ohio river is rising here this morning. Intense suffering among families in the lowlands have been reported. The damage will be large.

A Bit of History

Twenty years ago, when a comparatively unknown minister announced that he could positively cure Catarrh, his announcement met with many with sneers and scorn, but by many more with expressions of delight, and his own simple statement of his own cure and his cure impressed others with his honesty of purpose as well as his belief in his own ability to cure.

In reply to his announcement through the press over 125,000 Catarrh sufferers have applied to him for relief, and it would be impossible to realize to what extent he has benefited our generation.

Initiators have sprung up in every direction, advertising their nostrums, and adding to the long list of impostors who claim to cure, but the simple-minded old clergyman has gone on, and seen them rise and fall, so that to-day he stands almost entirely alone, announcing as of old, his still honest belief that he can cure Catarrh. His statement is now backed by so many thousands of people in all parts of the country that it is not difficult for Mr. Childs to refer parties who may not be well advised, to neighbors or friends in their own locality, who will speak for themselves what this treatment has done in their case.

Many thousands of people annually visit Troy, O., and they realize that their impression of the Rev. R. P. Childs was correct; that he is not a doctor, nor a Christian, nor a seller of nostrums; but a simple-hearted old gentleman, whose faith in his own ability to cure Catarrh is unlimited.

A $50.00 outfit will be furnished on 30 days' time to the first responsible agent that applies for it, with a guarantee of $150.00 profit in four weeks or no pay. Exclusive control of your territory. Something new and with great possibilities. We prove our responsibility. Address at once, with stamp, A. B. JARVIS & Co., Racine, Wis.

THE BEST medical writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal Catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will reach all the recesses of the nose, and the long list of impostors who claim to cure, but the simple-minded old clergyman has gone on, and seen them rise and fall, so that to-day he stands almost entirely alone, announcing as of old, his still honest belief that he can cure Catarrh. The Structure to Be Taken to Chicago

WASHINGTON, March 26.—John Brown's fort, a historic landmark at Harper's Ferry, Va., is to be moved to Chicago. The papers making the transfer of the property to Alfred Moore, a Chicago lawyer, have been signed here by Col. James H. Butt, the attorney for the owners, the Pusey & Jones Company, manufacturers of wood pulp at the Ferry.

The price paid for it is said to be $15,000. It is not known whether the purchase was for Mr. Moore or for others. Nothing had been known of the negotiations until they were completed to-day. The fort was originally an engine-house built of brick and stone, and is to be taken to Chicago and exhibited for show purposes. It will be transferred within sixty days by the terms of the agreement.

The Wedding Declared Off

DENVER COLO., March 26.—A wedding of more than usual social importance was announced to take place at St. John's Episcopal Cathedral to-day, but for some reason unknown it has been declared off. The groom-expectant, who was to come from Lima, Ohio, is a Mr. Trift, and the lady, who at almost the last moment refused to go to the altar with him, is Miss Maud Clark, a young woman with an income of $10,000 a year and nearly $50,000 in sight from the estate of her father, who was a cattle baron. Miss Clark was educated abroad, and on her way home visited in Ohio, where she became acquainted with Mr. Trift.

What is Scrofula

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings, which cause painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet, which develop ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors." It is a more formidable enemy than consumption or cancer alone, for scrofula combines the worst possible features of both. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How can it be cured? By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. For all affections of the blood Hood's Sarsaparilla is unequalled, and some of the cures it has effected are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula in any of its various forms, be sure to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial.

OBITUARY.

James B. Fitzgibbons.

James B. Fitzgibbons died at his home, 107 Center avenue, at six o'clock this morning, of consumption, aged 50 years. Deceased had been a resident of Janesville since 1860, and was a machinist, in the employ of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company. For several years he represented the fifth ward in the common council, and took a leading part in the proceedings of that body. He was a thorough machinist, and was popular among his associates. On account of failing health he was compelled some time ago to resign his position and give up manual labor, and a short time ago he was compelled to take to his home where he remained until death ended his earthly sufferings. He leaves, besides his wife, two children—one son and one daughter—to mourn his death.

His funeral will be held on Friday afternoon at two o'clock.

Mrs. Margaret O'Brien died at her home on Cherry street this morning, aged 70 years. Deceased had been sick some time with pneumonia, which resulted in her death as above stated. She leaves two sons to mourn her death, John O'Brien, of this city, and Felix O'Brien, of Chicago. She also had one daughter, who preceded her, the late Mrs. George Anderson.

The funeral will be held Friday morning at nine o'clock.

SUCCESSFUL ENTERTAINMENT

Given by the Epworth League of the Court Street M. E. Church Last Night.

A very good audience gathered at the Sunday school rooms of the Court Street M. E. Church last night to hear the literary and musical entertainment given under the auspices of the Epworth League. The programme was well arranged, and the performance gave good satisfaction.

Mr. E. O. Kimberly, solo; Mr. George Paris, solo; Mr. J. B. Hayner, diatonic recitation; Miss Lou Fenton, recitation; Miss El Shawan, recitation. The Banjo Club music and Miss Manie Jones' solo carried off the honors, "all receiving encores."

"Jargon" by Messrs. Hayner, Palmer, Bonetzel, Lagg and Capelle was also very amusing and received prolonged applause.

SUCCESSFUL REVEAL.

Just Closed at the M. E. Church Last Sunday.

The revival meetings at the First M. E. church, this city, which closed Sabbath evening, have accomplished great good. The house was crowded both morning and evening. Sixteen were baptized by the pastor, A. W. Stephens, on probation and fifty by letter. This makes, so far this conference year, 40 on probation and 15 by letter, a total of 55 additions to the church membership.

Rev. N. P. Peterson and the pastor, Rev. M. Evans, together with the church members, worked hard, and the results are very satisfactory. The Sunday school is in a better condition than it has been for years. One hundred and forty-four were present last Sabbath.

The election of officers was held Monday evening, Mr. H. G. Arnold was elected superintendent with A. W. Stephens assistant.

The Epworth League is a strong factor in this church.

THE MAY BRETONNE CO.

Lord Arlington's Daughter Presented Last Night.

Notwithstanding the disagreeable weather a good audience assembled at Lappin's opera house to see "Lord Arlington's Daughter." The play is a good one and gave universal satisfaction. Miss Bretonne is a talented actress and supported by a good company.

This evening the company will present "Zig—the Child of the Mountains." They should have a full house.

It's all very well to talk about building new railroads and new steamships, but how could men, women and children travel on them without Dr. Ball's Cough Syrup? Think of it. Ponder it.

"Neither a borrower nor a lender be," but take your own twenty-five cents and go round to your own drugstore, and buy yourself a bottle of Salvation Oil for your sprains, aches and pains.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Divorce Granted in the Case of Talmage vs. Talmage.

In the circuit court, this morning judgment of divorce was granted the plaintiff in the action of Mary M. Talmage against Henry B. Talmage on the ground of drunkenness. The parties were from Beloit.

The divorce action of Fanny R. Williams against Mary A. Williams, is now on trial. This action is being contested and will occupy the court the rest of the day and probably most of to-morrow. The parties in this case are also from Beloit.

THAT COSTLY METAL.

The Ornamentation of the New Singer Sewing Machine.

Did you read in the Gazette last evening about the costly metal called "aluminum." If not, you ought to read it now, and then go to the Singer office, 15 North Main street, and see that rare metal as ornamentation on the new Singer machine. It is handsome, with that and a great many other superior points the Singer has no equal to-day.

FURNITURE FACTORY.

Beloit Business Men Bidding for the Hanson Furniture Factory.

WILL THE PEOPLE OF JANESVILLE LET THEM HAVE IT?

Now is the Only Time To Secure Its Permanent Location by Liberal Subscriptions.

Notwithstanding the fact that a special committee has been appointed to canvass the city for subscriptions to the capital stock of the proposed new furniture factory, efforts are being made by the business men in Beloit to secure the new factory in that city, a gentleman being in the city to-day negotiating for that purpose, and offering very liberal inducements.

Our local committee are meeting with some success in their canvass for subscriptions, but it is slow work. Our people should take more interest in this matter and step right up and subscribe for the stock, and make a sure thing of it.

The following letters are given the Gazette for publication, to show how our neighboring city is working to secure the prize:

Henry M. Hanson, Janesville, Wis.

FRANK HENRY.—The heater is Mr. Chas. A. Rathbun, a citizen and manufacturer of Beloit, who wishes to talk with you in regard to a plant which he owns, and which I have suggested as being a very desirable one for our city, who would like to see you in reference to the possibility of locating your furniture factory in Beloit.

If you have not yet made your final decision let him know something of your plans, and if there is anything Beloit can do for you. You will be a committee up to talk with you in a few days.

Yours truly,

Ed. F. Hanson.

BELOIT, Wis., March 26th, 1890.

Henry M. Hanson, Janesville, Wis.

DEAR SIR.—This will introduce to you Mr. Chas. Rathbun, of our city, who comes to see you in reference to the possibility of locating your furniture factory in Beloit.

As one of the business men of the city, and secretary of the Business Men's Association, I will be glad to do what I can to secure your removal to this place. Mr. Rathbun will explain to you some things in reference to a location which may seem feasible to you.

Very truly yours,

J. B. Dow.

Secretary Business Men's Assoc'n.

THE OFFICIAL REPORTS.

Their Premature Publication by the Recorder Shown to be for Nuncum.

Last evening the Gazette published a little item stating the reasons why the official reports of the city attorney, the street commissioner, and the chief of fire department, were not published, and that their publication in the Recorder was premature, and unauthorized, etc. This morning the Recorder takes exception, and occupies nearly half a column space, in an attempt to justify it in the Publication. The Gazette gave as a reason that the reports were not correct as published by the Recorder, making no direct allusion to any particular report, supposing at the time that city attorney Dow's report was as correct as it is possible to make such a document. The Recorder this morning, separately from its laudatory article, publishes this little correction:

"In the annual report of City Attorney Joseph B. Doe, Jr., published in the Recorder of yesterday morning, there was a slight error. The statement was 'made that during the past two years' the city had been compelled to pay but $84.54 in costs. It should have read '$89.54.'"

Now, the Gazette will call attention to another little omission, being the expense of assistant counsel in cases pending against the city. These are items of expense; they may amount to more than the salary of the city attorney, and to make the report satisfactory to the taxpayers, should be given in full. "In counting dollars and cents, a man's political ambition should not be considered." The tax-payers demand the facts.

An Independent Candidate.

To the Electors of the City of Janesville:

Daring my term of office as street commissioner I have worked faithfully for the interests of the city of Janesville and deemed myself entitled to a re-nomination at the hands of the republican party. A majority of the delegation to the city convention, it seems, thought differently, and discarded me. I do not regard their action, however, as a popular expression, and therefore announce myself as an independent candidate for the office of street commissioner, and respectfully ask for your support and suffrage.

MATRIMONIAL.

To-day's Wedding Bells Chime Forth the Announcement of a Double Wedding.

This afternoon at three o'clock occurred the double marriage of Laura Lloyd to Mark O. Dunlap; and Chester O. Lloyd to Hattie B. Bennett. The ceremony took place at the Lloyd home, on West Pleasant street. Only the relatives and a few of the most intimate friends of the families were present. The wedding was a quiet one, with no attempt at display, but marked for its quiet elegance. The house was tastefully arrayed for the occasion, an abundance of flowers lending their fragrance and beauty as good omen for happiness.

At three o'clock the bridal parties entered the parlors, as Mrs. Medbury played the wedding march. Miss Lloyd was tastefully dressed in brown fabric, while Miss Bennett wore a sage green silk. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Hodge, in his usual happy but impressive manner, and as he pronounced the double twain, husband and wife the picture was a beautiful one, not mingled with the sadness which must come on such occasions. Yet the brides looked the happiness they felt, and the newly made husbands looked well deserving of the prizes they had won. The wedding feast which followed was a sumptuous one, to which all present did ample justice.

Miss Laura and Mr. Chester Lloyd are a son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Lloyd, who have quite recently made Janesville their home, coming here from Menomonie. The hosts of friends which Laura and Chester have, both here and elsewhere, will wish them heaven's brightest blessings in their new life.

Miss Hattie Bennett is a Menomonie lady, and numerous friends will wish her God speed on the matrimonial voyage.

Mr. Dunlap is a popular young business man of Geneva, where he and his wife will make their home. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd will reside on a farm near Emerald Grove.
